FAMILIES
OF THE
COUNTY OF DAUPHIN
IN 1790.

THE FIRST U. S. CENSUS.

HARRISBURG, PA.:
HARRISBURG PUBLISHING COMPANY.
1890.

Publications of the
DAUPHIN COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

THE FIRST CENSUS.

The census of 1790 was, owing to the primitive manner of its taking, never published by the National Government, nor, are we aware that any portion of it has ever appeared in print. It consists chiefly of the names of heads of families and the following:

1. Free white males above 16 years, including heads of families.
2. White males under 16.
3. Free white females, including heads of families.
4. All other free persons. [Persons answering to this description are marked with an *.]
5. Slaves.

The only portion of the record which is kept separate, unfortunately, is that of the town of Harrisburg, the rest of the county, including the present Lebanon, being thrown together.

In this connection, it may be stated that the Marshal for Pennsylvania was Col. Clement Biddle, and his assistant for the county of Dauphin Charles Brown.

The Town of Harrisburg.
